The enclosure is an excerpt from the SRRC charter, and the heading carried over from that. The business purpose refers to within PM, but passing the other points on to Dr. Schneider is appropriate and should expedite the review process.

I note that the enclosure is marked Draft and Confidential. Does that mean I should not share it with Dr. Schneider so he can explain to people what they have to cover if they want to make a formal proposal? Schneider already has direction to tell inquirers to send proposals in writing to Carchman at R&D in Richmond.

I have attached the guidelines for proposals as described in the charter for the Scientific Research Review Committee (SRRC), per your request to Cathy Ellis. Please call me if you have any questions.
