Dear Richard,

Enclosed please find a trip report. Please let me know if you want any additions or further details.

The analysis on the population register has started. Some interesting results. Smoker eat fruit and fiber containing food much less often than non-smokers and drink alcohol and coffee more often. Significant both for males and females. No differences in vegetable, fried food and fat consumption, once adjustment for age and education has been made. More results to come.

Maybe these data would be a good reason for a presentation in Richmond later this year?

Next week I will visit Inbifo.

With my best regards

Ragnar Rylander
